Singapore, 4 April 2024 – CLA Global TS is pleased to share that its Associate Director and Sustainability & Climate Change Lead, Ms. Maria Teo recently represented the firm as one of the selected Singapore firms to attend a business mission to China organised by the Institute of Singapore Chartered Accountants (ISCA).

Organised by ISCA, the visit to Shanghai on 25 March 2024 is a joint business mission with The Law Society of Singapore (Lawsoc) under ISCA's new Sustainability Apex Programme. The aim of the joint business mission is to gain insights on the sustainability-related business and legal landscape in China, explore partnership opportunities, and network with local businesses.

Singapore • China • Malaysia

The 15 participating Singapore firms are invited based on their internal expertise or potential to launch new innovative revenue streams, demonstrating the organisers' dedication to nurturing international networks and remaining leaders in industry advancements across accounting and legal sectors.

Ms. Maria Teo, Associate Director, Sustainability & Climate Change Lead at CLA Global TS, shared, "It was a very fruitful trip to learn about the sustainability scene in China, as well as learning from experts in the accounting and legal fields." It is heartening to see interest in this area picking up and that students in universities we met are enthusiastic about moving into environmental, social, and governance (ESG)-related careers."

Mr. Henry Tan, Group CEO & Chief Innovation Officer at CLA Global TS, expressed, "We are deeply honored that CLA Global TS could nominate a representative to join this business mission. It's gratifying to see our firm acknowledged for its capacity to drive sustainability initiatives locally and regionally. Through this opportunity, CLA Global TS remains committed to fostering talent within the accounting sector and to help develop capabilities in this area for professional services."
